W. T. Doty, of Circleville, writes: "Regarding the inquiry made by Robert W. Crans, 135 Wickham avenue, Middletown, as to the location of the first sluice or canal in Orange County, Miss Doty writes: "The first attempt to construct a canal in North America was made in 1700, by Dollier de Casson, at Lachine, on the St. Lawrence. Cox To Discuss Light Rates For Women Voters

Roselyn M. Cox, legal representative of consumers in their protests against light and power rates of the Rockland Light & Power Company, will discuss the matter before a public meeting of the Middletown League of Women Voters in the Common Council chamber at City Hall at three-thirty tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Cox's talk will be part of a comprehensive study of living costs undertaken by the Middletown group this winter. It will be preceded by a round table conference on the same general subject limited to league members.

Because the membership of the recently re-organized unit, now almost up to fifty, makes the round table meetings unwieldy, committee members, at luncheon Saturday at the home of Mrs. Orrin T. Pierson, Middletown chairman, decided to conduct periodic meetings of their committees to prepare for presentation of their subjects to monthly sessions of the entire membership hereafter. The new system also will put each committee in position to act immediately in the event of new developments in matters under its consideration.

Mrs. Pierson's luncheon guests included Mrs. L. E. Schell, who succeeded Miss Eleanor Flory, now studying in Boston, as chairman of the committee on women in industry; Mrs. Murray Kassel, efficiency in government chairman; Miss Eleanor Seeholzer, international relations chairman; Mrs. John Hurley, living costs chairman, and Mrs. Joseph M. Hurley, education chairman.

Zion Church Leads Again

Takes Sunday School Contest Banner Fourth Week With Unequalled Rating

Shooting up Sunday to a rating of 1845 percent, by far the highest yet attained, St. John's A. M. E. Zion Sunday School recorded fifty-two percent Sunday. Other churches had larger actual attendances but less notable increases over previous Sundays.

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church was in second place and the Rockville Sunday School, led in the Maple district schoolhouse, was third. Others were rated in the following order: St. Paul's M. E. North Congregational, First Baptist, Christ Universalist, Webb Horton, First Congregational, First Presbyterian and the Italian Chapel of Webb Horton church.

BARTER MART EXPECTED TO OPEN FOR NEWBURGH

NEWBURGH—At the meeting of its executive committee today, members of the League of Women Voters expected action to be taken on the projected establishment of a barter exchange here according to plans discussed last night at the Hotel Palatine.

John D. Farnham, vice president of the Emergency Exchange Association, New York, explained the function of his organization, which is to sponsor the exchange.

Unemployed men and women would be employed by themselves, since the Emergency Exchange Association vigorously urges that the workless be the ones to establish the system. Relief funds would be expended for raw materials and the jobless could manufacture the materials as needed.

THE U.S. MUST GUIDE WORLD BY LEADERSHIP

Capacity Crowds Greet Dr. S. Parkes Cadman at Pine Bush M. E. Church

PINE BUSH—The Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, of Brooklyn, radio minister and one of the foremost clergymen of the day, was greeted by capacity crowds at his two appearances Monday at the Pine Bush Methodist church, where he preached during the afternoon and gave a lecture in the evening.

Dr. Cadman's visit to Pine Bush came about through his friendship with Rev. R. T. Edwards, pastor of the church, both having come from the same district in Shropshire, England. It was on the advice of Dr. Cadman that the Rev. Mr. Edwards came to the United States and accepted a pastorate in the New York Conference.

The noted clergyman's program was divided into two parts. In the afternoon he delivered a sermon on Peace, based on the fourteenth chapter and twenty-eighth verse of the Book of St. John. A feature of the afternoon program was a solo by Mrs. Bennett, of the Walden M. E. church.

The evening program opened with the singing of hymns by the audience led by the Rev. E. C. Tamblyn, of Grace M. E. church, Newburgh, and the invocation by the Rev. John Shea, of Menomoney. This was followed by a solo by Mrs. Bennett.

Dr. Cadman was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Edwards who related that the visit was planned during a trip to Europe, the two having together last summer. Mr. Edwards also stated that Dr. Cadman was much interested in small churches and invariably visited a number of them on his trips to England.

The World at the Cross-Roads was the subject of Dr. Cadman's lecture which he introduced by saying that he entered the ministry forty-two years ago in Dutchess county and that he had always found occasion to praise the morality and virility of country people.

Dr. Cadman then discussed various forms of government pointing out that the success of a democracy depended on the active participation of the people and that the world looked to the United States for guidance and example. He contrasted the leadership of our nation with that of Greece and Italy and warned that the destiny of our nation was dependent on the conduct of our people.

Continuing the development spoke of the friendly relations among the nations of this continent comparing them to the armed and hostile situation in Europe, and concluding that by our Declaration of Independence from Great Britain we had encouraged and made possible the freedom and self-government of the members of the British Empire. He asked that we continue to guide the world by our leadership.

Between the afternoon and evening programs a cafeteria supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Charles Crist, Mrs. Channery Decker and Mrs. William Kinsey.

NEWBURGH COUNCIL IGNORES FILM VOTE

NEWBURGH—Anticipated presentation of resolution to hold a referendum on Sunday movies failed to materialize during the Council session last night. Nothing was said as to when the resolution would be offered in accordance with the decision last week.

Seven Protestant churches of the city united in a communication to the Council, urging that if a test vote is to be taken on Sunday movies through referendum, that it be held at the regular election in the fall.

A letter from the Rev. Pietro Pietro Moncada, pastor of the Italian Protestant Church, bitterly denounced Sunday movies particularly in view of the Lenten season and urged direct Council led to the fire companies which sought Sunday movies as a benefit to their treasuries.
